

Proposition 47 Joint Local Advisory Committee (JLAC) Summary Report

June 8, 2021

On November 4, 2014, California voters passed Proposition 47, a law that changed certain low-level crimes from potential felonies to misdemeanors. The savings from reduced incarceration costs were to be invested into drug and mental health treatment and other programs.

In 2017 the California Board of State and Community Corrections (BSCC) granted 23 applicants $103,000,000 to develop programs, including four grantees from Los Angeles city and county. In 2019 the BSCC granted 23 applicants $96,000,000 to develop programs, including five grantees from Los Angeles city and County.

The Prop 47 Joint Local Advisory Committee is convened by the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services Office of Diversion and Reentry and the Mayor's Office of Reentry, as recipients of Prop 47 funding, and seeks to promote transparency, accountability and collaboration between grantees themselves as well as all stakeholders, centered on those in the community most impacted by the criminal justice system.

For all programs, the performance period is listed above data tables, which allows you to note whether the data relates to totals from program inception or quarterly updates. Grantees are using a gender and racial equality lens to analyze outcomes. Our goal is for equitable program outcomes across race and gender, meaning that service and outcome demographics match the demographics of eligible participants.

Program: SECTOR
Period of Performance: January 2021-March 31, 2021
Population Served: Prop 47 eligible individuals from Los Angeles County who are interested in pursuing career pathways.
Program Description: The purpose of the Skills and Experience for the Careers of Tomorrow (SECTOR) Program is to offer career pathway opportunities and family-sustaining wages for people impacted by the justice system. The SECTOR Program is aimed at: 1) reducing unemployment and increasing earnings; 2) reducing recidivism; and 3) improving behavioral health and well-being by preparing and matching people with justice involvement to jobs in high-growth industries. The goal is to expand upon the employment and training options that are currently available (such as in Construction Trades and Hospitality), and forge pathways into new sectors (such as Technology and Healthcare) with opportunities that pay well with good benefits and offer advancement.

Core program components include:

- Skills training that results in industry-recognized, stackable credentials and/or paid work experience that provides participants with real-world experience, skills, and connections that lead to a permanent, unsubsidized job with an employer.
- Career coaching and job matching services to prepare and place participants into unsubsidized positions with employers.
- Financial assistance provided to participants in the form of wages from paid work experience programs, stipends during skills training sessions, and/or assistance accessing public benefits and other resources to ensure that participants have financial support and stability while they are enrolled in the program.
- Connection to supportive services including mental health and substance use disorder counseling if needed.
- Cognitive behavioral intervention (CBI) group sessions to prevent recidivism and build problem-solving skills to prepare participants for success in the workplace and continued advancement in their career path.

Highlights and Accomplishment since last JLAC:

Enrollments, sector-based trainings, CBI and Placements

As of March 31, SECTOR providers had already met 38% of their enrollment goals for the year, having enrolled 189 new SECTOR participants, of which 49 enrolled in sector-based training, including 23 who completed training this quarter. 68 SECTOR participants enrolled in paid work experience and 54 completed their paid work experience within a high growth sector by the end of the quarter. Of the 189 enrolled, 57% of them were unemployed at the start of the program. 30% were employed part-time and 11% were employed full time. Those who are full-time employed are not barred from enrolling if they are interested in gaining skills training and a higher paying or more sustainable employment opportunity through this program.

Of the 92 SECTOR participants who completed (89) or exited (3) the program, 7 of 43 went from unemployment to full time employment and 6 to part-time employment; 8 of 40 who were part-time employed moved to full-time employment; one participant lost employment, and the rest continue to work with SECTOR providers to secure employment. Most participants will “complete” the SECTOR program by graduating from a sector-based training, but will remain enrolled through job placement and 60 day retention period.

The following trainings were completed or ongoing during the reporting period:

- Construction: The 10-week, 300 hour Multi-Craft Curriculum (MC3) training is proprietary to the LA-OC Building Trade’s Apprenticeship Readiness Fund and provided participants with a hands-on orientation to the building trades, and connects graduates with union representatives that will support their application process for paid union apprenticeships.
- Government:
 - The 8-week, 47-hour Pathways to State Service (PASS) Program provided through the Worker Education & Resource Center (WERC) in Los Angeles is a fast-track to gaining

- employment with the California Department of Transportation (CalTrans). Successful participants gain union employment providing highway maintenance services to the state.
- The 10-week, 120-hour Preparing for LA County Employment (PLACE) Program provided through WERC prepares participants for careers in LA County government. This cohort focused on training for Intermediate Typist Clerk positions with the Department of Health Services.
- Green Jobs: The weeklong, 40 hour Solar Installation training provided by the former CEO of Glen Bland Solar gives SECTOR participants the soft and hard skills to join a solar installation team, including hands-on solar installation practice, computation training on estimating wattage needed for a given facility, and soft skills for working in the solar industry.

- Technology:
 - Bitwise Industries. The 14-week, 84-hour Bitwise Specialized Salesforce Training provides participants with technical skills for administering Salesforce databases. Participants graduate with a portfolio of their work and prioritization for a paid apprenticeship with Bitwise Industries.
 - Fortifi LA. The 14-week, 280-hour Fortifi LA training provided through St. Joseph's Center trains system-impacted individuals on hard and soft skills for gaining employment in information technology.
 - RebootLA is a tech coding training program that is specialized for returning citizens. At the end of the program participants receive a Full Stack Web Development certificate. Participants receive a stipend during the program and can either do a full-time 13-week course or a part-time 24- or 20-week course.
- Hospitality: Hospitality Training Academy provides training in the culinary arts and participants can obtain an array of certificates including Safe Serve.

As well as the sector-based trainings, 67 SECTOR participants enrolled in Cognitive Behavioral Interventions for Employment (CBI-EMP) sessions and 33 completed at least 30 hours of CBI-EMP curriculum. ODR only recommends CBI-EMP for those rated medium to high risk of recidivism according to the LS/CMI risk/needs assessment, and as of the end of this quarter 55% of that category of participants had attended at least one CBI-EMP session. ODR staff have already heard multiple participants share how important the tools received in CBI-EMP courses have been for their personal growth as well as career goal.

Provider Trainings

In February, SECTOR staff were all provided with a two-hour training on Health Services for People with Substance Use Disorders in which they received information about the impacts of addiction on the human body and within LA County, as well as practical tools such as how to use LA County's Medically Assisted Treatment Consult Line, the Substance Abuse Service Hotline and the Service Bed Availability Tool, which provides up to date information on residential and outpatient SUD providers and their availability. Providers were also trained on overdose prevention, how to use Narcan to treat overdoses, and offered free Narcan to have on-site.

In March, ODR staff, in partnership with subject matter experts among SECTOR providers, led a two-part training on Fair Chance Hiring Best Practices.

Challenges since last JLAC: Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, most program services are provided virtually. There is limited technology software and hardware access for many program participants.

Highlights and Accomplishment since last JLAC: Project imPACT 3-year performance goal includes 200

An example of the employment opportunities available was through Integrity Commitment, a WLCAC training provider that led a Covid19 cleaning program where trainees learned how to use several cleaning machines and solutions.

Challenges since last JLAC: The Covid-19 pandemic remained a challenge through December 2020. Project imPACT service providers made many adjustments to provide services virtually and in-person by appointment. The digital divide remains a challenge. with limited technology, software, and hardware access for many program participants.
